On May 12, Polyclad issued a statement to Chief Brady that, under Mass. General Laws, Sec. 6, Chap. 36, the Company was not prohibited from operating on Sunday. Chief Brady was notified on May 14 that, on advice of Counsel, Polyclad intended to operate on May 17, which it did.

Ostrow went on to say that after meetings and discussions with engineers and consultants, Polyclad has opted to alter the dispersion of exhausts. A consulting firm completed an odor survey in early Spring. "We have looked at data which will eliminate all but the faintest possibility of odor," said Ostrow.

"This will be accomplished," he continued, "by increasing the stack's height and the velocity of exhaust emissions. Air volume will disperse very quickly. D.E.Q.E. has approved and we will be seeking a variance for height (of the stack). Once we get a variance, adjustments will be made within two weeks.

This will eliminate all but the faintest possibility of odor." Ostrow also stated that the company has engaged in the design and development of an incinerator, and that the company is prepared to meet dates to comply with DEQE regulations.

Ostrow then read a statement from the management group of Polyclad which expressed their discomfort and concern that Polyclad had been "lumped" with Lewcott Chemical. It stated, "Polyclad has tried to be a good Millbury resident. We employ 120 people, half of which reside in Millbury. Polyclad brings $3,000,000 to the local area through payroll and other business. There have been unsubstantiated charges with even threats from people to close the plant down. It is upsetting to hear statements from public officials who should have all the facts and information before acting."

The statement read by Ostrow made reference to a statement by Selectman John Donnelly two weeks ago, indicating that Polyclad was a "time bomb". The statement went on to say that Donnelly "owes us an apology". No apology was forthcoming from Donnelly.

Ostrow added that Polyclad meets all federal and local regulations. "We are doing everything possible to control emissions," said Ostrow. "Please refrain from lumping us together with Lewcott. We cannot control them. We invite you to visit our facility."

Cristo stated that a good faith effort had come from Polyclad and such an effort would make a difference in resolving the problem. Adams added that the Board had received copies from the Legal Department excluding the need for a Sunday permit based on technical reasons. "What is the technical reason," asked Adams.

Ostrow replied, "The production line is a continuous operation. If shut down on either end, the product is not acceptable.

Adams replied, "That doesn't sound technical."

Ostrow stated that it takes time to heat up the process and that it takes 12 hours of continuous operation to prevent a substandard product.

Cristo asked for information on Polyclad's method of operation prior to 1984.

Ostrow replied that here had not been any change in method. "It is difficult to quantify and qualify odor. It certainly is not odor-free. It is a subjective judgment."

Adams then stated, "People are the best test if an odor is emanating and affecting them."

Ostrow answered that sampling was done by human noses. "It is definitely difficult to identify where odors are coming from. Last week when I was driving back to the plant, the smell was coming from the Sewerage Treatment Plant. We have completed the most scientific study at a cost to us of $10,000. A threshold is not set at which a nose can smell odor."

Adams then noted that he had no problem with a permit "as long as there is no adverse affect on the community. When it does, I am concerned. There is not a strong case for technical reasons to operate."

Selectman John Donnelly then asked Ostrow about emissions.

Ostrow indicated that there was no phenol, and that if you were to look at production records they would show continuous operation of the same material. He also noted that DEQE had approved the study to eliminate odor emissions. "We had every right under the Law to disperse it (odors). We will have the best available control technology," said Ostrow.

Betty Baker, an area resident to Polyclad, noted that Polyclad is the only plant open on Sunday. "Your odors stay in the house."

Ostrow indicated that the interim steps before incinerator installation will help Mrs. Baker's situation.

Cristo stated that Polyclad had recognized odor problems and had not denied it during the whole situation. He noted that there was a need to create public awareness and education.

Carol Perry, spokesperson for the Millbury Awareness Group, indicated that her group is trying to make people aware and keep the record straight between Polyclad and Lewcott. She then asked Ostrow if Polyclad would be creating further dispersion of odors toward Grafton Street and South Main Street with the new stack.

Ostrow replied that the concentrated area would be dissipated and blown to a bigger area. "It will not reduce odor but push it farther away."

Mrs. Rita Marchand, another resident, noted that the Board of Selectmen voted 4-1 to seek the revocation of Polyclad's permit to operate on Sunday. She stated, "We have only their word. Shouldn't the town hire an independent engineer to see if it is the case?" Mrs. Marchand was referring to Polyclad's reasoning for operating Sundays under technical reasons.

Cristo answered that the Board will talk to town counsel to see if it does apply for technical reasons. He noted that the Board was awaiting further information.

Mrs. Marchand then stated that Jean Lewis, President of Lewcott, had authorized a logging operation on 25 acres of land behind Polyclad. She noted that tax bills are sent to Polyclad for that land. She then added that BBF of Waltham, and Franklin New Hampshire, is the parent company with holdings in both Lewcott and Polyclad.

Ostrow replied that at one time Polyclad was tied to Lewcott but that it was no longer the case. He explained that Polyclad leases the building and is a stand-alone company.

Sutton Town Meeting Authorizes New Post

By Karen Potler

At 7:30 p.m. on May 18, Town Moderator, Rick LaBonte, gavelled Sutton's Annual Town Meeting to order and led in the Pledge of Allegiance. He then requested a moment of silence in memory of those crew members who lost their lives in the air attack on the U.S. Naval vessel, Stark.

The meeting, having been postponed from April 18, drew only 130 voters on Monday (less than 4% of the Town's registered voters), and fewer than half that number on Tuesday, May 19. The assembly took seven hours to dispense with the 40 article warrant.

INCENTIVE AID GRANT. Article 26, sponsored jointly by the Board of Health, Planning Board, Highway Surveyor, and Conservation Commission, sought to raise and appropriate $19,000 to fund the town's share of a state grant. According to Administrative Assistant, Robert Reed, the stated purpose of the Incentive Aid Grant is to assist communities in hiring engineers to add professionalism to town staffing and provide engineering services and support to the various boards. The engineer is also intended to be an access point for resolution of community complaints and emergencies. The grant would assist Sutton in paying a salary for an employed professional. The estimated salary range is between $35,000 and $40,000, and would be funded for three years as follows:

- 1st year - State 75%/Sutton 25%
- 2nd year - State 50%/Sutton 50%
- 3rd year - State 25%/Sutton 75%

Presently, the Article's sponsors utilize the services of various area engineering firms. Planning Board Chairman, Mary Kay Connor, reported that the Board's engineer recently informed them of the near impossibility for Cox Engineering to enforce board recommendations. Suggesting that no one can be everywhere at the same time, she stated that problems often come to the board's attention purely by chance, reported by vigilant citizens.

While Assessor Chairman, Robert Nunnemacher, opposed the article, stating he doubted a single individual would be talented enough to handle architectural, civil engineering, and surveying questions, George Wiegele, Health Board Chairman supported the question. Citing difficulties in coordinating review by the various boards for permits, he continued by saying that coordination with their parties (contract engineers) is even more difficult. Wiegele suggested that balking at Sutton's share of the Incentive Aid Grant didn't make sense. If all the fees currently paid by the sponsoring boards were combined they would, he contends, offset the ever escalating share of the grant that Sutton would pay, and provide a better return for the dollar.

The question was called and passed. It is expected that employment advertising will be placed immediately.

SIGN BY-LAW. The longest item on the warrant was Article 35, which passed handily, tallying 40 yeas to 16 nays. Planning Board member, Herman Vanderwart, read the entire (nearly 3,000 word) article which detailed definitions of sign types and locations, dimensions, permit requirements, fees, prohibitions and special exemptions. After making five small amendments, he then fielded questions and clarified the intent of the "sign by-law". Only one amendment was requested from the floor, which exempted "no trespassing" type signs from the required permit process. The question was then called and passed as described above.

SCENIC ROADS. Article 30, which drew heated discussion, sought to designate 10 town roads as "scenic" under the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40. The Historical and Conservation Commissions, sponsors of the article, were trying to prevent what proponents termed "wholesale destruction" of Sutton's roadways by limiting roadside tree cutting and disassembly of stonewalls, which they feel are so much a part of the Sutton and New England charm.

Opponents argued that the restrictions imposed by the Law prevent proper emergency maintenance and inhibit Highway Surveyor Raymond Smith's department from keeping these roadways safe for motorists. Feeling that the sponsors would eventually try to designate every town road as "scenic", they spoke passionately for the article's defeat and succeeded in convincing a majority of voters; the question failed at passage.

OTHER ROADS. A previously unnamed road, located between Leland Hill Road and Pierce Road, was designated as Dakin Road, after a longtime resident who owned a farm on the road.

Alana Drive was accepted as a public way by the town, subject to approval of "as-built" plans, which were to have been received and reviewed by the Planning Board's consultants prior to Town Meeting gavel.

Approval of a request that the Town accept a small parcel of land located on Jones Road from developer Thomas Judson was indefinitely postponed. It was generally held that, although the request might alleviate a shortfall of frontage on a new house lot, the matter more correctly belonged as a variance request in front of the Board of Appeals. If the variance is denied, Judson might approach the Town on the floor of a special meeting.

NO TAXES, NO PERMITS. Under a new by-law which appeared on the Warrant as Article 34, Sutton's Tax Collector will notify any and all license or permit granting authorities of overdue or delinquent taxpayers. The by-law will require denial, revocation, or suspension of license or permits (e.g. building, occupancy, earth removal permits, liquor, class 1 class 2 licenses) until the delinquent taxes are paid and the collector issues a certificate showing the party to be in good standing.

NO TOILET, NO SALE. The Article for funding of the toilet facilities adjacent to the Sutton Center Library was indefinitely postponed, and the Selectmen's authority to seek two parcels of town owned land was rescinded, as requested by Article 39.

MONEY MATTERS. Representatives of various boards and departments picked apart the report of the Personnel Board, and the Finance Committee's line item salary allocations. Several department heads called for "holds" (return to that line for discussion) during the Moderator's reading of the FY '88 budget.

Leading the discussion for better compensation was Town Clerk, Ethel O'Day. Mrs. O'Day had prepared, and made available for voters' review, a fact sheet entitled, "Rational Support of Full-Time Town Clerk's Position". Listing all of her duties, and providing facts from the 1986-87 Salary Survey done by the Massachusetts Personnel Board, she argued strongly for an upgrade of her office's operation to 40 hours per week. Mrs. O'Day sought additional compensation for this upgrade from her part time salary of $11,550 to $18,000.

The Board of Assessors also requested raises, ranging from $2356 to $2520 (members), and from $2948 to $3020 (chairman).

Barbara Bessette, Sutton's Tax Collector, sought an increase in the line item "Salary, all other" (not her own) from the recommended $14,134 to $14,904.

Town Nurse, Evelyn Shaw, represented the Council on Aging in the absence of Larry Moore and Ron Dion. Leaving the budget figures in place, she corrected the personnel board report to illustrate one senior aid whose wages should have been $5.38 per hour in a 25 hour week.

Police Chief Conley rose to make the biggest departmental salary impact on the FY '88 budget. "For the safety of my officers," he said, "I'm here tonight to ask you to give me that money to put on two more men." He explained the impact of the crime rate in Sutton and illustrated that by citing that the number of OUI (Operating under the influence of alcohol or drugs) arrests in 1987 has already exceeded the total for all of 1986. Conley went on to describe the dangers of having only one man "on the beat" in the wee hours of the morning and forcefully requested the funds to beef up the police force by two patrolmen. In addition, pursuant to state law, since the number of full time officers on the Sutton police force has reached twelve, his own salary would be raised to 1.8 times that of the highest paid uniformed patrolman for a raise of $7,815 (new salary of $39,330).

The FY '88 budget was approved as amended.

MORE MONEY MATTERS. The passage of Articles 12-15, and 17-19, resulted in voter approval for equipment purchases as follows:

POLICE: $23,000 for 2 new cruisers and $3,600 for 1 new cruiser radio.

CIVIL DEFENSE: $3,800 for specific supplies and equipment.

FIRE: $4,900 for 10 pager radios

HIGHWAY: $104,000 for 1 new fully equipped grader, $50,000 for 1 new fully equipped grader, and $15,000 for 2 new automatic road sanders o $39,500 - (pending state reimbursement) road-work.

OTHER ARTICLES. Other approved articles which allocated funds included these planned expenditures:

o $39,500 - (pending state reimbursement) road-work.

o $5,000 - road line painting

o $42,000 - Sutton's share of highway funding state grant

o $5,400 - Sutton's share of "Shared Planner" grant

o $750 - Waters Farm Maintenance Fund

o $35,000 - Creation of a "Reserve Fund"

Mrs. Marchand asked whether Polyclad had any plans to sell the 25 acres to a developer or to expand their operations.

Ostrow replied that, at the present time, there was no intention to expand in Millbury.

Lachance then inquired if Polyclad had been operating the same way since the 70's.

Ostrow replied that they had.

Lachance stated that there was not much difference between the chemical plant and the town sewerage plant as far as the emission of odors. He then added that the sewerage commission should be called in to correct their own problems.

In closing the discussion, Cristo took note of the good faith efforts of Polyclad to resolve the problem. "We want resolution," said Cristo. He then asked Ostrow if Polyclad could work to get a good faith effort from Lewcott.

Ostrow replied, "We have tried and will continue to try to do that." Ostrow added, "Upper management has met with them (Lewcott) to do what we can," replied Ostrow.

Cristo answered, "I hope your efforts will bring relief from some of these problems." He then advised Polyclad to move forward for a variance for the extension of the stack.

Ostrow stated that he would get the materials to Administrator Earl Chase.

- Following the lengthy Polyclad discussion, the Board went to "New Business":

- On a 5-0 vote, Selectmen approved a request from the 1st Place Bicycle Shop to hold time trials for a bicycle race.

- Approved by a 5-0 vote, requests for street opening permits for sewer and water installations on South Main Street and Beach and High Streets.

- Approved a request from Commonwealth Gas for street openings at 112 Elm Street, 26 Millbury Avenue, Hayward Glen, Augusta Drive, Pinehurst Circle, and 20 Hamilton Street.

Lachance stated that he would not vote for any more street openings by the gas company until the patch work to replace existing surfaces is upgraded and improved.

Cristo noted that the Town Highway Surveyor and Earl Chase have devised a system for improving conditions in the future.

- Lachance requested and received support on a motion to send a letter of commendation to Town Hall Grounds Keeper, Mr. Gonyea, citing the excellence of his work in maintaining the grounds.

The Board then listened to several pieces of correspondence before moving to Executive Session to discuss matters pertaining to Collective Bargaining.

The committee discussed Democratic Party priority issues such as day care, tax reform, prison overcrowding and pension reform. A list of these priorities was forwarded to the Massachusetts Democratic State Committee.

Committee members voted to contact other Democratic Town Committees in the Blackstone Valley area to determine if there would be an interest in a joint advertisement in the Blackstone Valley Heritage Homecoming Souvenir program book for 1987.

Rep. Moore also stated that they will also be contacted to discuss a joint fundraising program for spring of 1988 for the Democratic party in the Blackstone Valley, enabling each committee to receive a percentage of the return.

Reading Workshop Planned At Elmwood Street School

MILLBURY. Dr. Brendan Walsh will present "The Wonders of Reading Aloud" at the Elmwood Street School at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, June 2. Dr. Walsh's presentation is designed for parents and teachers of children, pre-school through Jr. High/Middle School. His workshop is designed to encourage parents to read aloud with their children and teachers to do so with their classes. A wide range of choice "Read Aloud" books will be discussed and exhibited. Copies of "The Read Aloud Handbook", by Jim Trelease, will be available for purchase.

Dr. Walsh's presentation has been enthusiastically received in communities and at conferences throughout New England. His delivery is replete with anecdotes about reading aloud and failing to do so, looks at the reasons why people don't read with children, and offers suggestions and encouragement to those wishing to help their children learn to enjoy reading. For further information, contact the Chapter I office at 865-9131.

Parents are encouraged to attend this free presentation.

Sgt. Webb Completes Babson College Course

John F. Kreckler (left), Director of the New England Institute of Law Enforcement Management at Babson College, Wellesley, presents a certificate of graduation to Sergeant Stephen J. Webb of the Millbury Police Department. Sgt. Webb was among 25 officers to complete the three week management course, co-sponsored by the New England Association of Chiefs of Police and the Babson College School of Continuing Education.

WELLESLEY. Sgt. Stephen J. Webb, of the Millbury Police Department, has completed the three-week Command Training Institute for Law Enforcement Officers program held at Babson College, Wellesley, MA. The program is co-sponsored by the New England Association of Chiefs of Police and the Babson College School of Continuing Management Education.

The objective of the training program is to provide command officers with the skills needed to exercise effective management practices and procedures in order to gain the most from those under their direction. Command training concentrates on the operational aspects of the command officer's responsibility, seeking to extend existing programs and provide a vehicle for instruction to those who must supervise the daily operations of various departments.

To achieve this goal, the program offers courses in community relations, decision-making, planning, staffing and other management and human relations subjects. More than 4,500 law enforcement officers from all the New England States, as well as from other areas in the United States, have completed courses at Babson since the program began in 1967. John F. Kreckler, former Superintendent of the Boston Police Department, is director of the New England Institute of Law Enforcement Management at Babson College.

Applications Available for Affordability Day Care Scholarships

UXBRIDGE. Representative Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge), today announced that applications are now being taken for the Affordability Day Care Scholarship Program (ASAP). The Office for Children has designed and will pilot this scholarship program to accurately document how the high cost of day care affects working families, and to help parents pay their day care costs. To distribute the funds fairly, the Office has decided to award day care scholarships for one year to 150 income eligible families through a lottery system.

Families in Rep. Moore's district are eligible to enter the lottery. The lottery, for the Blackstone Valley and Webster areas, will be run through Child Care Connection of Worcester. Families who earn between 71 and 100 percent of the state's adjusted income ($17,304 to $24,696) for a family of three) will be eligible to participate.

A key part of this scholarship program is its ability to accept matching funds from private sources. The local CCR&Rs will be trying to generate private contributions, which will allow them to receive additional state dollars, which, in turn, will allow more families in those communities to win scholarships.

The response to the lottery is intended to illustrate the public's concern for, and interest in, how families manage day care costs, which run from $3,000 to $6,000 or more annually.

Those persons interested in applying should contact Child Care Connection, 484 Main Street, Worcester, MA 01608 (telephone 755-1233) before June 5, 1987. Scholarships will be awarded by June 15, 1987.

Millbury School Committee debates issues to wee hours of the morning

By Edward J. Cooney

The School Committee, in a marathon session, finished its business at 12:20 Tuesday morning. Due to the late hour, two items on the Agenda were carried over to the next Meeting.

Chairman Hanratty convened the meeting at 7:30 p.m., calling for approval of previous minutes.

Committeeman, Edward Wilczynski, wanted his statements concerning teacher absenteeism to indicate that he still feels there is a "possible misuse." According to Wilczynski, "I felt, and want it recorded, that 4.5 days per teacher absence is excessive. Others on the Committee did not object to the number of absences."

Committeewoman, Mrs. Patricia Cooney, asked that the minutes of the last meeting show that a consensus of the committee felt an injustice had been done to Mrs. Orozko and, if that was the case, the Committee would redress the situation. The minutes were approved 4-0-1, with Hanratty abstaining.

Item 2 concerned a request from Jonathan Windle to discuss the renewal of the lease at Windle Field between the Trustees of Windle Field and the School Committee.

Windle indicated that he and the trustees were offering a change from a five year lease to a two year lease, expiring at the end of May. He suggested that this arrangement would offer better guidance for trustees and the School Committee. "Five years is too long. A two year arrangement will cause us to be more attentive," explained Windle. "I wish to compliment you for past and ongoing efforts. However, how are we organizing happenings going on at Windle Field? Specifically the Lions Club. What arrangements are there? There were considerable comments about last year's carnival."

Windle went on to note that there was damage to the entrance this past year, which has been repaired, and also that considerable litter was left scattered around. He also expressed concern for liability and bonding. "This was not handled in a business-like manner," said Windle. "There has been a 90-95% upkeep of Windle. An extra 5-10% would make it better. There has been growth around fences. The field has not been secured at night. There are posts but no chains." Windle also stated that the carnival proposed by the Lions Club was "too iffy". "If it is not done properly by the Lions Club, it behooves us to make it proper."

School Committeeman Alan Tuttle suggested a written agreement be developed between the School Committee and the Lions Club.

Superintendent Alfred Sylvia indicated the need for strong bonding agreements and their enforcement.

Mrs. Cooney concurred that monies be taken from the bond to pay for any damages and expenses for cleaning up after activities.

Hanratty then asked Windle if the School Committee could be notified in the event the field is put up for sale. Windle agreed to notify the Committee.

Windle was also assured that his concerns would be addressed and become a reality.

It was agreed that the lease would be for three years, and Windle requested that it be signed and executed by the Committee before June 3, 1987.

Kelton Johnson, Principal of Elmwood, and his staff, were present at the request of Committeeman Bruce Pease, to express any concerns or interests related to programs at the Elmwood Street School. Johnson stated that he and the staff were open to any questions the Committee might have concerning programs at the K-3 level. He did specify that there were some concerns that he wished to express briefly.

One of Johnson's major concerns involved a recent vote by the Committee to cut a third grade teacher. Johnson explained that the cut would result in increased numbers in grade 3 next year. He stated that he was asking for reconsideration to reinstate the position.

Johnson also requested that a release time day be established in the beginning of the year so that parents could be invited to discuss with teachers, on an appointment basis, concerns surrounding students having difficulties with school work. This would, he said, provide more time than what is now available on a parent's night.

Pease stated that it would be appropriate for the School Committee to reinstate the third grade position. He also inquired about the feelings and thoughts of the teachers at Elmwood concerning instituting the position of Curriculum Coordinator.

Diane Ferkler, guidance counselor, acting as spokesperson for the teachers, indicated that there was a favorable feeling that the position would give the staff better direction and coordination in their teaching. Ferkler also noted that the testing change would be more difficult as teachers would be required to change the curriculum to meet the standards of the testing.

Ms. Dowgert, teacher of the first grade Early Achievement Transitional Class, spoke to the progress and purpose of the self-contained class structure. She indicated that the students develop more self-confidence and self-esteem in the self-contained structure. She explained that student's questions are answered immediately, make-up work can be completed the same day, and curriculum is tailored to the needs of the individual students.

Sylvia noted that consideration is being given to instituting a similar structure for Grades 2 and 3 in the future as an alternative for slower students.

Mrs. Lynda Lariviere, Reading Specialist, stated that, since the Statewide Assessment Tests, a lot of work has been done and concerns that have come up over the past years are now being addressed. Mrs. Lariviere also supported the Early Achievement Class structure. She noted that she has worked closely with Ms. Dowgert and found that her own time working with students in this classroom has been more effective and productive than if she took them out of class and worked "one-on-one".

Mrs. Lariviere also spoke to a new reading program which is to be installed in the primary grades called Reading Mastery. She stated that, initially, she had some concerns with the program. However, she added that after visiting the Sutton Schools, and observing and discussing the new program, she gained more assurances that the program could be effective.

Dr. Sylvia indicated that he supports this program and that following much study and research, he was confident that the program could strengthen the reading skills of the primary grade students.

Mrs. Cooney stated that on February 4, 1987, the School Committee had voted to establish a Basic Skills Testing Program for K-12, and a Retention Policy, whereby students not passing basic skills would be retained, given remedial instruction, and not allowed to move up until they pass the Basic Skills Tests.

Representatives from Riverside Publishing Company were present to discuss the Iowa Tests of Basic Skills. The Iowa Test was recommended by the system-wide Guidance Departments which have been conducting research and evaluations of several test services available for testing to be used in the Millbury system.

The two representatives spoke to the long history of the Iowa Test and what it could do for the Millbury School system. It was explained that the test would evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of students, thereby allowing teachers to identify individual weaknesses and tailor the curriculum to meet those needs.

The service policy of the company would include pre-training and instruction of the staff prior to testing. In addition, a follow-up service would assist the staff in understanding the results, and explain how best to implement them so as to meet the needs of students.

Dr. Frank Sherry noted that the norms established, as well as the form to be used by the Millbury system, are new. The test is correlated with national norms.

Wilczynski inquired about the possibility of having state norms in order to coincide with statewide assessment tests.

Dr. Sherry noted that there were no state or regional norms available because of the many variables that enter into devising norms state by state.

In response to a question from Mrs. Cooney concerning the discipline areas to be tested, Dr. Sherry indicated that Reading, vocabulary, Comprehension, Math, Problem solving, Language Arts, Spelling and Language Usage were the sub-tests included in the test battery. He also noted that the Iowa was the only major test that tested the higher order thinking skills, which would challenge and test the brighter students. Dr. Sherry also explained that, because there were new norms being established, early testing scores might drop. He added that once a "bench mark" was established, improvement in scores would result a little at a time.

Mrs. Jacques, Elmwood staff teacher, stated, "Changing our curriculum and testing is scary, but a challenge. The Iowa is a more difficult test than the present California Test Battery."

Sylvia noted that he did not act alone on developing the recommendation for using the Iowa Test, but received input and assistance from the Guidance Staff, parents, and questionnaires.

Paul Clancy, Millbury Teacher's Association President, was present to discuss and seek, from the Committee, an answer to a Grievance that was presented at their last meeting. Clancy gave a brief summary of the Grievance at the request of Chairman Hanratty who was absent from the last meeting. The Grievance, filed by George Desrosiers, concerned a directive from Principal Daniel Carmody to write objectives in lesson plan books. After some discussion, the Committee voted 3-2 to deny the Grievance.

Item 11 on the agenda was a carry-over from the previous meeting and concerned a request for a leave by Mrs. Linda Orozko for study toward her doctorate. The Committee had approved her request for an unpaid leave. Questions arose, at that time, concerning a possible injustice that had occurred as a result of Proposition 2 1/2, and a denial for leave when she was on recall for a Guidance position at the Middle School.

The controversy centered around the "injustice factor" which the Committee agreed was, in fact, there. Mrs. Orozko did have a break in service because of termination under 2 1/2, which conflicts with the contract requiring seven years of continuous service in order to be eligible for a paid sabbatical.

Clancy noted that Mrs. Orozko had a total of 11 years in the Millbury system, was granted a maternity leave from May of 1981 to June of 1981, and was then terminated. On August 31, a Friday, she received a phone call stating that there was a guidance position open at the Middle School as a result of a resignation. According to Clancy, she was told she would be required to report to work the following Monday, if she wanted the job.

Mrs. Orozko stated that she wanted to return to work but had just had her baby six weeks prior and needed more time to make arrangements for her children and family. She also stated that she had received a call at 3:00 p.m. on Friday, August 31, from Mr. Carmody, who was Middle School Principal at the time, indicating that he had to know right away. "My maternity leave of absence, requested in the Spring, was denied because of my termination under 2 1/2," Mrs. Orozko said. "The minute I was called back, under recall, I thought I had contractual rights and could ask for a leave."

Mrs. Orozko then stated that Carmody told her he needed to know right away because Mr. Dunham, who was certified in Guidance, could move into the Guidance position and Mr. Austin, who was rified under 2 1/2, could move into his former position, "if you don't come back."

Tuttle then made a motion to grant a sabbatical for next year and a second was put forth by Pease.

Wilczynski stated that only the Superintendent could make such a recommendation and that Tuttle's motion was out of order.

Chairman Hanratty then ruled the motion out of order and informed Tuttle that he could challenge his ruling. Tuttle indicated that he would not challenge the ruling by the Chair.

Paul Clancy offered an alternative solution by saying that the M.T.A. would sign a legal agreement, for this one case only, that would not conflict with the Contract's rules. Hanratty asked Clancy if he had the authority to act alone. Clancy said that he would check

On May 18, Millbury beat Assabel by a score of 13 to 3. Assabel scored three runs in the first inning before Jodi Cronan settled down. During the final six innings, Jodi held Assabel hitless and scoreless. For the game, she allowed only two hits while striking out ten. Robin Rosseel played another strong game in the field.

The attack was led by Robin Rosseel with four hits and three runs scored. Robin had two doubles and two runs batted in. Jodi Bush and Ellen Ward chipped in with three hits apiece. Getting two hits, were Jodi Cronan and Michelle Nadeau. Beth Krumsiek, Gina Orsi, Lisa Luby and Lynne Picard each had one hit. Knocking in two runs for Millbury, were Jodi Cronan, Ellen Ward and Lynne Picard. Jodi Bush had one run batted in.

On May 19, Millbury played a stubborn Northbridge High team and came away with a 7 to 5 victory. Northbridge led by one run after three innings. At the start of the third inning, Jodi Cronan came on in relief to hold Northbridge hitless over the final five innings. Jodi Bush and Jodi Cronan combined to strike out ten while allowing only two hits. Robin Rosseel played another strong game in the field and Kathy Ayotte threw out two runners trying to steal second.

Marie LaBreck led the scoring with a triple and three runs batted in. Ellen Ward had two hits and two runs batted in. Getting two hits with a triple was Robin Rosseel, while Jodi Cronan had two hits, including a homerun. Beth Krumsiek, Jen Dow, and Kathy Ayotte each had one hit.

On May 20, Millbury played the number one team in the Southern Worcester County League. To gain a share of first place, Millbury had to beat Uxbridge. Both teams played well and it was a close contest all the way. Jodi Cronan pitched her best game of the season, allowing no walks and only four hits. The Millbury defense, led by Robin Rosseel at short stop, was outstanding. Uxbridge runners reached base in only two innings.

The Millbury offense was held to three singles by Robin Rosseel, Jodi Bush and Ellen Ward. All three hits came in the fourth inning, but the strong Uxbridge defense prevented Millbury from scoring. In the end, Uxbridge came away with a 2 to 0 victory and sole possession of first place in the Southern Worcester County League. Millbury was left with a solid grip on second place in the League and its pride intact.

Fred Villari's Northbridge Studio Raises $1700 For Muscular Dystrophy

The Central Mass. Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association has announced that Fred Villari's North-boro Studio of Self Defense raised over $1700 to aid in the fight against neuromuscular disease. Their studio sponsored a kick-a-thon where students got sponsors per the number of kicks they could do in a fifteen minute period. Money raised on behalf of MDA goes to fund world-wide research, including a "cell bank" to find cures and treatments for forty different neuromuscular diseases, to provide medical services for people afflicted with these degenerative diseases, and to send the children to camp for a week each summer.

with the Board of Directors and stated that he thought that they would agree to his proposal.

Dr. Sylvia then said that he considered Mrs. Orozko an excellent employee but could not recommend her for a Sabbatical as it would be in violation of the Contract. Sylvia did indicate that he would reconsider his thinking and consider the alternative presented by Clancy to amend the contract for this one case only.

- Returning to the remaining Agenda items, Wilczynski asked that Items 4 and 6 be held over until the next Meeting as it was getting late. Committee members agreed and moved to Item 7, unanimously approving the proposed 1987-88 School Calendar and the closing date of school, this year, on Friday, June 19.

- Tuttle then spoke briefly to Item 8, concerning the results of the Drug Survey completed by the Chemical People. Tuttle noted that there were good signs that the educational programs in the schools were having some impact. He stated that the M.I.A.A. program, in which Millbury's athletes would be involved next year, was a positive step in educating and assisting the youth in dealing with drug and drinking problems.

- Item 9 expressed Tuttle's concern with developing the image of the Millbury Public Schools. During the brief discussion which ensued, a consensus of opinion evolved suggesting the development of plans for holding an Arts Festival next year. It would be on the Millbury Common, sometime in May, so as to make the public aware of what students are accomplishing in all the schools.

- The Committee then voted 5-0 to approve the first reading of a new policy on testing.

- Chairman Hanratty read a letter of resignation from Mr. Lopato, Principal of Shaw Middle School, who plans on retiring on August 31, 1987. The Committee accepted with regret.

The posting of the Principal position will be internally. The Committee saw no need to advertise outside the system.

Hanratty then read another letter from Lopato, supporting the appointment of Frank Rogers, Assistant Principal at the Shaw Middle School, to replace him.

Sylvia stated that Rogers has done a very fine job in his tenure in the school system.

- Under appointments, the Committee approved Sylvia's recommendation to rehire nine of the eleven teachers who were dismissed prior to the Annual Town Meeting. Pease abstained on the vote to rehire his wife as a staff member at Elmwood.

Sylvia indicated that two other positions were not to be filled at the High School, one in Industrial Arts (Jay Hanratty has opted for another position outside the system), and one in Home Economics, due to a low sign-up by students at the High School.

- Other appointments approved were as follows:

1. Gary Robinson as head of the Home Economics Department.

2. Re-appointment of Chapter I teachers, Nancy Tabor, Valerie Anderson, Ilene Bierman, and Richard Smith.

3. Richard Pichierri as full time night custodian at Elmwood.

Two summer curriculum projects were approved by a 5-0 vote.

In the area of Language Curriculum, Mary Jo McKeon and Leane Pease were appointed on 5-0 and 4-0-1, respectively, with Pease abstaining.

George Desrosiers was unanimously approved as the staff member for a Foreign Language Curriculum Guide.

The Committee approved Mary Lemay, a recent college graduate, as the summer school English Teacher. Sylvia noted that no candidates from within the system had applied for the position.

- Under Addenda Items:

1. The Committee approved an arrangement with the Town Library to offer the use of paper back books from the Elmwood Street Library for a summer reading program for Millbury students.

2. Approved the sum of $1,000 for a meeting of reading and math teachers on August 31, 1987, prior to the opening of school. Teachers will be paid $15.00 per hour for six hours for a total of $90.00 per teacher.

3. Sylvia informed the Committee that Mrs. Stowe, Director of Special Education, was planning on letting two aides go, in order to increase the Special Ed staff by one teacher at the High School.

4. Approved, on a 5-0 vote, a request to grant permission to run off and distribute copies of a questionnaire by the Transportation Advisory Committee under Mr. Stickney, the Business Manager.

5. Approved, on a 5-0 vote, a request from Mrs. Banks, head of the Pre-School Nursery Program, to run a Nursery Program to coincide with the Summer School. This would be a community service for parents.

6. Approved, on a 5-0 vote, a recommendation to reinstate the third grade teaching position cut during budget deliberations.

- The meeting adjourned at 12:20 a.m. on Thursday morning.

Worcester State College: "Affordable to the Poorest, and Good Enough to Attract the Richest"

The Victorian Restaurant in Whitinsville was the site of a Community Outreach Breakfast Meeting, the theme of which was Collaborative Efforts in the Blackstone Valley. At the invitation of Representative Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge), Dr. Philip Vairo, President of Worcester State College, spoke of the commitment that Worcester State has made to extend its academic and professional resources to educate and re-educate the growing population of the Valley.

Since President Vairo assumed the presidency in 1982, Worcester State has undergone an impressive transformation and is rapidly becoming an academic driving force in the area, addressing the needs of a diverse constituency. Vairo's comments were directed to members of the business, educational, and service community in attendance, and were an invitation to these diverse groups to avail themselves of the generous variety of programs which Worcester State has to offer. Vairo briefly defined the vision of the institution stating, "Worcester State is a comprehensive state college in the tradition of Horace Mann who said that a state college should be affordable to the poorest and good enough to attract the richest." He then explained that this is the mission and desire of the college.

Vairo illustrated this commitment by highlighting the diversity of unique programs which are available at the college. He spoke of the Senior Citizens program which is offered tuition free to the elderly. "Many enroll for enrichment, and many are enrolled in degree programs," he stated. Mrs. Julia Mack, an eighty-one year old recent graduate of Worcester State, spoke of her experiences in the program. "I was tired of the stereotype of the elder citizens," she said, "and am pleased with the growth that I received." She recalled that she was frightened upon entering the program and shared one of her early experiences with the group. "In my first class, the professor said, 'Take out your syllabus' [A syllabus is a class outline on which are the daily or weekly assignments] and I looked through my bag, but had none. The second day, he again asked us to take out our syllabus, and I raised my hand and said,

'I don't have one.' When he came over to give me one, I said, 'Oh, I have one of those; I didn't know that that's what it was called.' My experience has been beautiful," she went on to explain, "because we have had the support of the president and the professors. It was an adjustment for the professors, as well, but now some professors actually invite the seniors to take their classes."

Dr. Vairo then explained Project Concern, a program which is in the process of being phased out, in part because of its success and partly because of the active job market. In this program, the college offers those on unemployment up to eleven credits free so that they can re-train, making themselves more marketable. "We started out with 100 students and now are down to about 30," he said.

The college also offers a Welfare Recipient program which is similar to Project Concern in that it is designed to sharpen skills or educate people so they may enter the marketplace.

Among the innovative offerings at the college are a Speech and Hearing Center, a Business and Industry division, the only Occupational Therapy program in the State College system, and a Computer Science division, to name a few.

Joining Dr. Vairo were members of the college's faculty and administrative staff who enlarged on the various programs which they direct.

Charles Bolack, Publisher and Editor of the Grafton News, and Chairman of the Quinsigamond Community College Grafton Steering Committee, was introduced by Dr. Vairo as the prime mover in bringing both schools (Quinsigamond and Worcester State) to the Grafton location. "The Valley is unique in that there is not one, single college in the area. Our ultimate goal," he said, "is to bring education to the Valley."

The meeting concluded with President Vairo forming a committee under Dr. David Quist, Acting Vice-President of the college. The Committee will explore ways in which Worcester State may better serve the specific needs of the area and better improve access to the attractive resources which it has to offer.

GRADUATION - 1987

On Sunday, May 31, the 115th graduation at Millbury Memorial High School will take place. The program will begin at 1:00 p.m. at the athletic field at the high school, or in case of inclement weather, it will be held in the gymnasium. The Class of 1987 has over 100 graduates whose class theme appropriately states, "The Long Awaited Tomorrow Is Suddenly Today". The Reverend Arthur Perkins, Pastor of the First Congregational Church, will give the Invocation and the Benediction. The Welcome Address will be given by the Class President, Erica Niddrie. The other graduation speakers are as follows: Valedictorian, James Tuttle; Honors Speaker, Lisa Iacone; Student Council Vice President, Junior, Velma Englehart. The guest speaker will be a retired prominent area psychologist, Dr. Muriel Camarra. After these speeches, Principal Daniel Carmody and Assistant Principal Charles Capparelli will present the diplomas to the Class of 1987, the culmination of the day's activities. For those who may not be able to attend the graduation exercises, they may tune in on Channel 32, Millbury's local access channel, and view the program live, starting at 1:00 p.m. Congratulations to all the graduates, and may your graduation be "a sunset of a beautiful past and a sunrise of a bright tomorrow."

OTHER SENIOR EVENTS

CLASS TRIP: On Thursday, May 21, nearly 80 seniors went to the Frank Davis Resort where they were able to participate in numerous activities such as boating, swimming, miniature golf, basketball, tennis, volleyball, a movie, and great food. They were accompanied by six teachers and Principal Daniel Carmody. Among the teachers, were two who have had the greatest involvement with the class of 1987. They are Scott Healey and Gary Robinson who, as the class advisors, have guided the class toward their graduation. The class of 1987 is most grateful for all their help and guidance.

CLASS DAY: On Friday, May 22, the Seniors held their annual Class Day. The audience, made up of parents, family, teachers, students, and friends, was welcomed by Lynne Picard, vice president of the Class of 1987. Lori Gardner read the Class History and Kristen Clark and Michele Marra read the Last Will and Testament. Tammi Johnson and Michele Marra read the Class Prophecy and the Class Song was sung by Karin Stead.

SENIOR SUPPER: On Friday, May 29, this year's Senior Supper will be held in the High School gymnasium from 7:00 to 11:00 p.m. Happy's Restaurant will cater the event, and Perry Conte, Inc. will provide the entertainment. This informal evening is a last opportunity for the seniors to get together, outside of graduation, and reminisce over their last four years, and present each other with gag gifts as they prepare to separate, some for the first time since they began school together some twelve years ago.

SCHOLASTIC AWARDS NIGHT: On Wednesday, May 27, many seniors were awarded scholarships to help them as they continue to further their education. Principal Carmody, and Harold Erickson and John Marlborough, representatives of the Millbury "Dollars for Scholars", presented most of the scholarships. Also, academic awards were given, not only to seniors, but to all the other students at Millbury High who have earned academic awards this year. Aside from awards for maintaining high scholastic averages, there were departmental awards and attendance awards as well. A complete listing of the scholarship and academic award winners will be published in the local newspapers.

ATHLETIC AWARDS: On Thursday, May 28, the Athletic Department awarded the MVP and letter awards to the athletes of Millbury High School. The participants in all the sports for this school year received recognition.

INTERNATIONAL FOODS DAY: This annual event took place on Wednesday, May 27. Students in the upper level foreign language courses participated in this international gourmet outing by preparing foods served primarily in foreign countries. Some prepared salads, others main courses, and still others, desserts. They trekked up to Green Hill Park in Worcester and feasted on the multitude of different delicacies enjoyed by other countries. Georges Desrosiers, the Foreign Language Department Chairman, and Mrs. Kathy Paige, Spanish teacher, accompanied the students and also got to share in all that FOOD!

SPOTLIGHT ON BUSINESS

Ballard Motor Sales

We've all heard the expression, "Forged out of a community's past." In the case of Ballard Motors, located on Howe Avenue in Millbury, this expression has a great deal more relevance because the humble beginning of the dealership was in fact a blacksmith shop where Harold Ballard's father practiced the blacksmith and carriage maker's trades. From a small building located at the far end of the present property, the larger more modern present facilities emerged.

Harold Ballard was the former owner and a lifelong resident of Millbury. Harold's father was a blacksmith and carriage maker who, shortly after the turn of the century, started his own shop. When the automobile came along, it was logical for the carriage maker and blacksmith trades to evolve into automobile repair inasmuch as repair of leaves, springs, and axles, as well as interior and exterior body work, was very similar on early vehicles. Thus, history thrust the Ballard's into an industry that would grow more rapidly than anyone could predict.

"Honest Sales and service, plus hard work." This is the same philosophy of the present owners, Bob Picking and Everett Grahn, who oversee an even larger and more complex operation than Harold Ballard had ever foreseen.

Today, Ballard Motors, still located on the same site, has over fourteen employees, more than a dozen of whom are from Millbury. Bob, the president, and Everett, the vice-president, oversee every aspect of the operation and deal on a very personal level with all of the customers. Everett is basically in charge of sales, and Bob handles service, parts and road service. "Though those are our main obligations," said Everett, "we frequently have to fill in for one another. I'll take over in Service and Bob will sell cars if customers are backed up."

These two gentlemen both have an easy, personable manner which puts people at ease and inspires confidence. "We like being small," said Bob, "because it allows us to give personal service to our customers. No matter what the problem is, the customer is

L.H. Ballard's Garage, as it was called, was the first automobile repair shop between Worcester and Blackstone, a distance of 40 miles. America's love affair with the car is legendary and so it was in Millbury. Each year, more and more cars were put on the road and business boomed. This marked the first expansion that was taken; Ballard's began selling cars. First, they sold Fords, then Chevys, then finally, in 1928, and now doing business as Ballard Motor Sales, it became a Chrysler agency.

When Ballard's moved into the sales end of the business prior to World War I, automobiles were delivered to the dealer without windshields, and dealers would attach this and other accessories such as acetylene gas lights and even bumpers. Harold, at this time, worked as his father's helper, learning every aspect of the business.

In 1940, Plymouth was added to the Chrysler line. By this time, the agency had grown from three mechanics in 1922 to seven mechanics in 1934. During the War years of 1941-1944, three service shifts working around the clock were needed to keep aging equipment running.

In a 1960 article featuring Harold Ballard, he was asked, "What made your business so successful?" His reply, talking to one of the owners and we can make sure that the proper action is being taken."

"We both know what's going on - what's happening," said Everett, "and consequently the customer gets the very best attention. We take a lot of pride in the reputation we've gained over the years, not only among our customers but with other dealers as well, and that is what we go overboard for - our customers."

It is a tradition based on service, begun by Harold Ballard and zealously cultivated by Bob Picking and Everett Grahn that has accounted for their success, much of it coming from return customers and their children and their children's children. This growth, based on satisfaction, testifies not only to their concern and dedication, but also to their success at achieving their goal.

This accomplishment is not as easy today as it was in 1962 when Everett began working for Harold. The vehicles of the 80's are more sophisticated and complex than those of the 60's. "Our technicians all have to go to school," Bob explained. "They're called technicians today and not mechanics because they have to learn many new diagnostic skills which require pretty sophisticated and expensive equipment. They have to attend classes in Natick three days a year, and we run in-house classes one day a month."

Both Bob and Everett agreed that providing modern, up to date service is far more involved and expensive than it was in the past. They point with pride to the fact that they have recently received Chrysler's 1987 Service Professionals Award. This honor is given only to those dealers who have met or exceeded Chrysler's high standards which include technician training, management training, equipment, facilities, and a high level of customer service satisfaction.

Harold Ballard would be proud to know that Bob Picking and Everett Grahn have kept and surpassed his preoccupation with service, customer satisfaction, and hard work. In the tradition of the past, where personal attention and pride were valued over profit, Ballard Motors, under the leadership of Bob Picking and Everett Grahn, has taken the best values of the past and forged them with the present.
